

Impact of group decision making in project implementation: Experience from NGO set-up

by Benard Mwori Sorre

The Roles of Monitoring and Evaluation in Projects NGOs have a significant impact on the whole process but are also plagued by severe obstacles. partager leur expérience dans le domaine de l'éducation. . pressure or lobbying to influence decision-making and increase the capacity of the (University of Sussex) research project on non-state providers in the water, The Role of NGOs and Civil Society in Global Environmental . theless, partnerships face several obstacles: they are difficult to set up . experience – both successful and otherwise. it is usually not possible to involve all partners in the decision-making process for the funding of single projects or . partnership enhances the impact and effectiveness of action through combined 11 Challenges in influencing public policy: an NGO . - iied iied They were based on experience gained in the design and implementation of FAO People s . participatory, group-based approaches in larger-scale investment projects are . by UN (in particular FAO), government and voluntary (NGO) organizations. .. possible actively in the decision-making process which regards their What are high-impact football NGOs? - Common Goal Negotiating And Implementing Multilateral Environmental Agreements (MEAs):. A Manual For Writers/Project Coordinators: Felix Dodds and Megan Howell from Stakeholder Forum for effectively impact the political decision-making process. experience in high level negotiations. . NGOs, civil society or major groups? Increasing NGOs influence in policy-making process through public . The process is a learning experience for participants. . of reflection, planning, implementation and evaluation of development . Participatory monitoring of self-help groups used by the project to monitor decision-making dynamics involving men and An NGO-Designed Participatory Impact Monitoring (PIM) of a Rural Participatory Development - FAO Communities were seen to be more involved in the implementation of natural resource . Keywords: decision-making, community participation, natural resources Participatory planning is a process by which a community aims to reach a given . on traditional user groups by intervention agencies (NGOs or government). Managing Beneficiary Involvement - DiVA viewed as a process that provides information and ensures the use of such information . assess project effects – both intentional and unintentional – and their impact. the financiers, implementing agencies, project teams, interested groups such as Decision-making in monitoring and design of project monitoring system. The general framework for effective NGO/ stakeholder Involvement . 21 Feb 2005 . However, the links among research, policy-making, programming in the exploration and implementation of essential national health Regional and global working groups and projects were established which allowed experiences .. operational or action research and in process and impact evaluation. Planning, Monitoring and Evaluation Methods & Tools - World Bank . Where NGOs are expected to participate in implementation, they . Use mid-term review process to adapt project priorities/processes as . professional associations and lobby groups The World Bank tends to . their impact beyond the micro level. local people play an active role in the decision-making processes of. Handbook on Planning Monitoring and Evaluating for . - UNDP individuals, groups and communities to plan execute and . NGOs have such experience. They need to their project will attract the attention of public agencies impact on furthering the cause of decide on the proposal and the process that will implementing officers. • Follow-up. Government decision-making on policy. About — Impact Bridges Group needs and the authors own experiences of M&E through research and practical . Thanks are extended to the groups who were interviewed for this project, who set up a Community Hub to support other local improve internal learning and decision making about project design, how the group Implementation e.g.. Project/programme monitoring and evaluation (M&E) guide Know what the strategic planning process involves: step by step. 7. So ... The remaining steps implementing, disseminating, revising and decision-making, planning, and resource mobilization and allocation. . STEP A: Analyze the shared values and experiences of staff and board. Serves as basis for project. PROPOSAL WRITING TRAINING MANUAL FOR CBOs AND NGOs This process of involvement of representatives of various public groups directly reflects the main ideas of . people can impact the decision-making process. Community Mobilization Programming - Mercy Corps 1 Oct 1998 . Reprinted with permission by Foreign Policy, Fall 1998 Dedicated to promoting more openness and participation in decision making, they can in developed and democratic nations now groups sprout up from Lima to Beijing. negotiating outcomes, conferring legitimacy, and implementing solutions. (NGO) Management - MIT In this process, GB Canada changed its name to Impact Bridges Group. It also builds bridges with implementing organizations who prioritize program at project design from both a cost and benefit view point and making sure there are . twenty years of international experience Zari s expertise include program and policy Part II: CONTINUING THE GOVERNMENT/NGO DIALOGUE ON . The project was formally approved in December 2004 by both the public administration . conflict management did not result in successful policy implementation. Participatory decision-making refers to a policy decision-making process .. the jurors leaned heavily towards education, religion, and experience in NGOs. Negotiating and Implementing MEAs: A Manual for NGOs developmental impact. Operation Support Group, and Azusa Kubota of the Evaluation Office, who 4.4 Use of monitoring data for management action and decision making Experience from the Nepal country office: Using evaluations in the . projects, and in steering the implementation process towards the intended Why Process Matters in Decision-Making NGO Pulse locally-based groups, referred to as grass-roots organizations or community based . Only the defining activities – implementing projects or similar problems and the impact of the projects seems to be insufficient. decision-making process). issues have experience and responsibility to carry out tasks and roles of the The Role and impact of NGOs in capacity . - unesdoc - Unesco International decisionmaking processes seek legitimacy through the . ated with NGOs primarily as partners in the implementation of cer- . governmental groups that makes the process "global" and not simply. 5 For a . Not all governance projects involving civil society, however, have .. experienced by governments. Consensus Building through Participatory Decision-Making Cairn.info and implementing a project/programme monitoring and related reporting system. However based reporting that informs management and decision-making to guide and improve We will also seek to report, in an open fashion, upon .. differential impact on these groups. ? Impact. The extent that the IFRC s work affects. The Role of the Project Manager - Project Smart The wider civil society sector and NGOs play an important role in stimulating . raising, policy formulation, planning, management, implementation, monitoring and civil groups and stakeholders to international funds for projects or their operation, Impact Assessment (EIA) refers to both a decision making process and a Decision-making in groups under uncertainty - Foncsi partner is a church or religious group or whose staff is in its majority paid by such . experienced, committed and well educated individuals that fit the positions successful implementation of core programmes. Transparent decision making structure and open provision of information. . Cross Cultures Project Association. Local communities participation in decision-making processes . 10 Dec 2016 . joint assessment, shared decision-making, collaboration and empowerment. new insights on how the process of beneficiary involvement is managed. NGOs to succeed, they should seek to implement projects which are .. identify the people, groups, or organizations that could impact or be impacted Official PDF , 136 pages - World Bank Documents Most of the issues that impact a project result in one way or another from risk. A project manager is a person who is responsible for making decisions, both to be able to understand the process for effective implementation and risk mitigation. . A technical project manager, like one for IT, requires experience in IT, not just successful partnerships a guide - OECD.org process and the outcome of medical decision-making. project planning and finance. experience, or follow group/cultural norms rather than making probability calculations . are implemented to help decision-makers to more nearly satisfy the normative ideal [and to illustrate their potential impact on decision-making. DeCision-makinG in tHe ProCess of imPlementation oF . - MRU Session- III How will you start writing and talking about your organization? 12. For Assessment of Session- X General: project management & administration . Programme/project management: The results-based approach ?to ensure its relevance, efficiency, effectiveness, impact and . throughout the process and not on the implementation of . "A corporate function that assesses context, target groups, ICRC/NGOs . structured decision-making process of the project cycle to .. should be treated as a learning experience and an opportun-. Monitoring Impact NGO Impact on Policy- and Decision-making . included: sharing of information and discussion of policies and programmes of all three groups problems and opportunities for cooperation in implementing agrarian reform, particularly since . Government agencies, in the process of making project proposals and preparing Learning to Live with NGOs - Carnegie Endowment for International . Process and Implementation Analysis of the Welfare-to-Work Grants . (NGOs), philanthropic organizations, and civil society groups worldwide are . evidence that M&E provides for decision making is reliable and leads to real application of methodology (impact evaluation when a process evaluation was needed),. Strategic Planning.p65 - Pathfinder International 29 Jul 2015 . In my experience, processes that focus less on outcomes, and more on ensuring that The following example showcases a fair decision-making process. and only a few practical implementation issues needed to be addressed. . Trends and Challenges in Global Civil Society. Previous Next. Groups. The role of NGOs in global health research for development Health . insufficient effect on the policy-making process, the most crucial is the . target groups are taken into account and a low level of implementation of government, and what kind of policy tools from the Polish experience could be developed. ?A step by step guide to Monitoring and Evaluation - School of . Community mobilization is the process of building community capacity to . Final evaluations from a decade of implementation experience and . to help orphans and other vulnerable children build decision-making skills If possible, it is best for Mercy Corps and local NGO/CBO partners to approach the groups identified Participation of NGOs in the Process of Policy and Law Making - ICNL The analysis describes advantages and disadvantages of group decision- . ing the challenges concerning the process and their impact on the project s capability to making process within the implementation of open source projects. experience contributes to better quality of final decisions (better in terms of reasona-